BUILDING PERMITS.
To Richard Caples to build a four-story concrete office and store building, 21 feet 6 inches by 43 feet 6 inches by 23 feet 8 inches, on northwest corner of San Antonio street and Mesa avenue, estimated cost $20,000 in addition to a $6000 permit already issued.

FEWEL SAYS HE HAS A SURPRISE

Major Fewel has a surprise for his friends in the new Fewel building which will be erected on the San Antonio and El Paso street corner, but he will not tell just what it is to be. He has already promised to have life saving stations on each floor so this innovation will be no surprise.

One man surmised that he was planning to put an observation tower on his building three stories above the ten story roof in order to have it over the 12 story Anson Mills building and make good on his promise to build one story higher than the highest. Major Fewel refuses to state just what the architectural surprise is to be.

Thomas, of Philadelphia, had his thumb broken in yesterday's game at Boston. He is the fourth Quaker to be injured this season.

Jimmy Walsh, of Boston, got the decision over Pat Moore of Philadelphia after 12 rounds of fighting, when the referee stopped the fight because Moore refused to weigh in. Walsh got 12 rounds of two minutes each, instead of 10 rounds of three minutes.

It was the last game of the season taken, 9 to 6, by Wichita over Denver. Jarman did well up to the eighth.

It is too bad about the pool Brooklyn handicap, but those wild and woolly legislators must have some annual amusement. It is too bad, but nobody cares a whoop.

Game called at end of 6th to allow teams to catch trains.

EL PASO BUILDER GOES TO MEXICO

To supervise the concrete work on two big mills in Mexico, J. F. Woodward will leave Wednesday evening for Tampico and Veracruz, to be gone a month. His building operations in El Paso will be carried on by his foreman and the Schutz and Krueger building will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The Fewel building will be started Monday by Lee and Woodward.

EXCAVATION FOR THE MILLS BUILDING

Excavation work begun Monday on the basement of the Anson Mills building and a battery of teams is at work excavating for the big basement, which is to occupy all the space under the building. A picket fence of the old time El Paso brand has been built along the Oregon street side of the building to keep inquisitive persons from walking into the ditch.

CEMENT PLANT RESUMES WORK

The cement plant started grinding out "El Toro" at noon Wednesday and is now turning out full capacity of 1200 barrels daily. The plant was shut down to permit electrical men to repair the motors.

TOLTEC WORK TO BE RESUMED; PAY FOR ALL

Arrangements have been made with contractor C. J. Smith to complete the Toltec building and active work will be resumed Thursday. J. J. Hudard, of Denver, the architect, who has the construction of the building in charge, is here and, with the building committee of the club, has adjusted the difference. A. P. Coles, one of the building committee, said today that every workman who had been employed on the job would be paid in full for every minute of work he had done.

July 10 is the time now fixed for the completion of the building.

EXTENDING SMELTER CAR TO THE CEMENT PLANT

Poles, ties, steel and grading outfits are now on the ground for the extension of the smelter car line to the cement plant. Work is expected to begin on this extension Thursday and will be in charge of the Sidne-Webster Engineering corporation. This line will be extended from Towne at the smelter to the main works of the cement plant in order to transport the workmen to and from the plant.

WORK ON NEW BANK.

The supports for the first floor of the American National bank building are now being formed out of steel reinforcing and will be poured before the end of the week. The walls of the basement have already been poured and the first floor will be in as soon as the supports have set and the boxing built.

James Corbett will keep 'em interested at Camp Jeff. He has had stage training. Good business, Jim!

Farthing's curves were too much for Sioux City, Tuesday, and Lincoln won 15 and 2. No, that's no mistake, 15 and 2.

It is going to be a wonderful contest at Chicago tonight between Frank Gotch and how-do-you-speak-it. His name is the Pole, got it, and, by golly, we hope he shows up well anyway.

Quin won his game in the seventh at New York yesterday, and that made it three on 12 for the Quakers, but, by golly, we hope he shows up well anyway.

It was the last game of the season taken, 9 to 6, by Wichita over Denver. Jarman did well up to the eighth.

Dope On Texas League Games

Tuesday's Games—Special Wire to The Herald.

It was an off day for Oklahoma City and Dallas.

TEAM DEMORALIZED.

Houston, Tex., June 1.—Hunters Hills absence from the game Tuesday seemed to demoralize Houston and as a result, Galveston won by a score of 1 to 0. Galveston scored in the fifth, Dundon singled to the center and stole second, advanced to third on Spencer's sacrifice. Donnelly's double scored him.

WACO WINS FROM BRONCOS.
San Antonio, June 1.—Waco repeated Monday's game Tuesday, defeating San Antonio, 3 to 2. The visitors outplayed the locals, getting hits when they counted. The game was won in the eighth when Tullos singled, Duguey sacrificed him to second, he went to third on Johnson's out and scored on a hit by Conaway.

TEN INNING GAME.
Shreveport, La., June 1.—It took Shreveport 10 innings to defeat Fort Worth by a score of 1 to 2. The game was a pitcher's battle between Weatherford and Herbert in which both men did excellent work. The game was one of the best seen this year on the local grounds.
